

Information about your recent WATS^{3D} biopsy procedure

During your endoscopy, your doctor performed a WATS^{3D} biopsy. This is part of an advanced diagnostic platform that can help detect precancerous cells before they develop into esophageal cancer. The WATS^{3D} procedure is proprietary and is made available only by CDx Diagnostics, Inc. (“CDx” or “we”).

The laboratory fee

CDx directly bills your medical insurance carrier for its analysis. The laboratory is currently in the process of becoming an “in-network” provider with most medical insurance plans. In the interim, you will not be responsible for any “out-of-network” fees associated with these plans. CDx will follow the in or out of network status based on your primary insurance coverage status.

What this means for you

-  In-network plans: If CDx has a contract with your medical insurance company, we are contractually obligated to bill standard co-pays, co-insurance and/or deductibles which your plan views as patient responsibility. These plans include Medicare and Medicare Advantage.
-  Out-of-network plans: The No Surprises Act prohibits balance billing for ancillary services provided by out-of-network providers when a patient’s tissue sample is referred by an in-network facility. You will therefore not be responsible for amounts that your insurance plan does not cover.

In the coming weeks, you will receive an Explanation of Benefits (EOB) from your insurance company. The EOB is not a bill. If we are required to collect a payment from you, please wait to remit payment until after you have received an invoice from CDx.

Alternatively, some insurance plans send payments due to CDx Diagnostics Inc. for its laboratory services directly to the insured/policyholder. If you do receive a payment from the insurance company for our services, no need to wait for an invoice, please forward that payment with a copy of the EOB to:

CDx Diagnostics, Inc., PO Box 5124, White Plains, NY 10602-5124

We are committed to working with patients and offer numerous payment options including flexible payment plans and financial assistance.

Please contact Billing Services if you would like more information. We’re here Monday to Friday, from 9 AM to 8 PM EST.
